

Enstar (US) Inc.

Enstar (US) Inc. specializes in the operation and management of insurance and reinsurance companies in run-off. With offices in New York, Rhode Island, and Florida, we provide our domestic insurer and reinsurer clients with a wide range of run-off and management solutions, as well as dedicated claims and related technical services.

Our key objectives & strategy

By partnering with our clients we provide finality solutions that enable them to identify, quantify, and rapidly release capital; we also provide ongoing management solutions through consulting services and custom-tailored management engagements.

We utilize highly innovative technology, experienced management staff, and an extensive range of products to obtain optimum results. Our philosophy is to expedite proactive run-offs at the lowest possible cost to serve the interests of shareholders, management, regulators, and creditors. The identification, quantification, and mitigation of latent liability is among our core objectives.

Our services

Enstar (US) Inc. provides a wide range of run-off products, including claims-servicing, reinsurance collections and commutations, arbitration and litigation management, full-service portfolio management, and structuring of exit strategies.

We work closely with our fellow Enstar companies throughout the world to structure solutions to meet each client's specific needs.

We provide a full array of consulting services, ranging from full-service run-off management to claims inspections, claims validation and settlement, identification and collection of reinsurance assets, and IT consulting services. Our focus is not limited to audit-type services, but more importantly, comprises exposure management and, ultimately, the elimination of exposure through well-developed and proven techniques.

Enstar (US) also provides insurance and reinsurance-inspection services; these services include underwriting reviews, technical claim reviews, premium-accounting reviews, operational-efficiency reviews, and full acquisition due-diligence reviews.

Our track record

We commenced our US operations in April 2005 as premier run-off managers, with a primary focus on the elimination of client risk. As we have grown, we have developed significant in-house expertise spanning all major insurance disciplines, including financial, actuarial, legal, and technical claims matters.

Our run-off professionals have a wealth of experience and industry contacts and have been actively involved over the years with all of the major global market and claims issues that have been experienced by the insurance industry across all lines and markets. Typically, our people have more than 20 years' experience in one or more of the insurance, reinsurance, and legal sectors.

Our vast experience in the run-off arena and our association with other run-off companies provide access to hundreds of insurance and reinsurance executives in North America, South America, and the Caribbean – a significant advantage for our clients in any run-off situation.
